

A circular plot showing the distribution of 100 genes across 12 clusters. The genes are arranged radially, with their names labeled around the perimeter. The clusters are represented by different colors: blue, orange, green, and grey. The blue cluster is the largest, followed by orange, green, and grey.

[illegible]